Mr. Zhu:

At the September 2021 meeting of the Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Saskatchewan, you admitted that you are guilty of unprofessional conduct.

You are guilty of unbecoming, improper, unprofessional, or discreditable conduct contrary to the provisions of section 46(o) and/or section 46(p) of The Medical Profession Act, 1981, S.S. 1980-81, c. M-10.1, and/or paragraphs 31 and/or 32 and/or 33 of bylaw 7.1, and/or bylaw 8.1(b)(viii), of the Regulatory Bylaws of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Saskatchewan.

This unprofessional conduct pertains to your clinical clerkship during the years 2017 to 2019, when you collected documents and copies of documents containing personal information and personal health information of hundreds of individuals. To serve the public by regulating the practice of medicine and guiding the profession to achieve the highest standards of care

Patient confidentiality remains a cornerstone in the practice of medicine and should never be taken lightly. It is incumbent upon all physicians to protect their patient's information and any public breach of patient confidentiality will severely undermine the public's confidence in physicians and the healthcare system. This is a responsibility that should never be taken lightly.

Your misconduct has directly impacted the lives of hundreds of patients and it is the fervent desire of this Council that you will reflect on your behaviour so that such deficiencies will never be repeated as you progress with your medical career.

The conduct which he admitted was collecting and copying documents in the course of his clerkship, that contained the personal information and personal health information of numerous patients that he dealt with, retaining those documents without redacting the personally identifying information, and failing to exercise due diligence to ensure the documents were disposed of in a secure and appropriate manner. Given that Mr. Zhu had provided the College with an undertaking related to his handling of personal health information while licensed as an undergraduate medical student, and the fact that he had completed an ethics course, the penalty order included a reprimand and the requirement to pay costs.

- 8) The privacy office of the Saskatchewan Health Authority catalogued the documents that were contained in the plastic bag, and determined that the documents identified 786 individual patients. The SHA notified all patients by letter. At least 131 patients telephoned the SHA privacy office as a result.
- 9) Mr. Zhu was suspended from clinical duties by the College of Medicine on September 20, 2019.
- 10) The College of Medicine held an Academic Misconduct Hearing on November 5, 2019 relating to the abandonment of health records. In addition, a number of other requirements and restrictions were imposed.

Mr. Zhu will require all patient lists, deemed essential to the completion of his clinical duties, be provided to him by a resident or staff physician involved with the care of mutual patients. ### Points at Issue

Both parties have come to agreement regarding nearly all elements of the penalty, with the exception of costs. Due to this lack of agreement, Council has been asked to present reasons for its decision. At issue as well, is that a concurrent disciplinary process which was completed by the University of Saskatchewan College of Medicine Professionalism Panel, which had imposed its own penalties. Council will need to reconcile these two independent processes of the Professionalism Panel and the CPSS, to insure that, in totality, the penalty remains appropriate. In addition, Council has also been asked to review the length of time to complete payment of his fines, as Mr. Zhu has presented evidence that he does not have the financial resources to fulfill this obligation at this time.

Documents under consideration

- Informational document 188_21 – "Mr. H. Zhu - Penalty Hearing - Submissions from Mr. Zhu"

Position of the Registrar's Office on Penalty

Verbal and written arguments were presented by Ms. Torrance on behalf of the Registrar's Office. The Registrar's Office suggested the following penalties:

- 1) A reprimand in the form directed by the Council;
- 2) A requirement to pay costs in the amount of $8846.62.

The Registrar's Office also asked that Council may wish to comment on whether a suspension would have been appropriate, had Mr. Zhu not been suspended from his medical education for nearly 2 years.

The Registrar's Office has submitted case law presentations that, while not entirely equivalent to the facts of this case, show suspensions equivalent to 3 to 5 months. Ms. Torrance stated that Mr. Zhu has been suspended since September 2019, which would place the effective suspension at, at least 2 years.

Other factors that the Registrar's Office submitted in determining appropriate penalty are summarized here as:

- The nature and gravity of the proven allegations - A large number of patients were affected by this breach of confidentiality.
- The age of the offending physician - Dr. Zhu is in the early part of his medical education.
- General and specific deterrence - The significant nature of the incident, signals the need for penalties to be consistent with its grave nature.
- Length of time since the misconduct - Mr. Zhu. Has been suspended from his education for 2 years.
- Ensuring that the penalty will, as mandated by s. 19.1 of the Act, protect the public and ensure the safe and proper practice of medicine - The restrictions imposed by the Professionalism Panel will ensure that Mr. Zhu upholds the sanctity of personal health information.
- The need to maintain the public's confidence in the integrity of the College's ability to properly supervise the professional conduct of its members - This penalty demonstrates to the public and the profession the serious nature of this conduct.
- Ensuring that the penalty imposed is not disparate with the penalties previously imposed in this jurisdiction in particular, and in other jurisdictions in general, for the same or similar act of misconduct - The case law supports suspensions of between 3 to 5 months and Mr. Zhu has already served nearly 2 years due to his educational suspension.

The Registrar's Office also submitted that a mitigating factor is that Mr. Zhu has admitted to the charge, minimizing the cost to the CPSS and inconvenience to the witnesses. They also submitted that there was no evidence, that Mr. Zhu deliberately discarded the personal health information inappropriately. Finally, it is appropriate for registrants who engage in unprofessional conduct to bear the costs associated with the investigation, as the only alternative is to have the costs borne by the membership at large.

Position of Mr. Zhu on Penalty

Council reviewed the information submitted by Mr. Zhu. Mr. Zhu submitted the following factors he wish to have considered, in its deliberations.

- He submitted financial documents to support that he was not employed, nor was he receiving any income during his suspension from his education. Documents provided include tax records, bank records as well as correspondence from the Saskatchewan Ministry of Health.
- Mr. Zhu also submitted that as he returns to his medical education, he will experience a further financial burden from tuition and living expenses.
- He also states that due to the fact that he hasn't had CMPA support he has accumulated significant legal fees.
- He has also had to bear the costs of the ethics course he has taken.
- He will not be receiving the Clerkship Stipend for the completion of his medical education, as he has already received the full disbursement.
- He asks that Council consider in its deliberations, that he will not have stable employment until at least 2023, upon completion of his medical education.

Decision of Council

The Council acknowledges that it has received Mr. Zhu's undertaking related to his handling of personal health information, while licensed as an undergraduate medical student, as well as the certificate evidencing his completion of an ethics course as directed by the College of Medicine Professionalism Panel. That undertaking and certificate provide the basis for the penalty order that follows.

The Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Saskatchewan imposes the following penalty on Mr. Huangrui (Richard) Zhu pursuant to The Medical Profession Act, 1981 (the "Act"):

- 1) Pursuant to Section 54(1)(e) of the Act, the Council hereby reprimands Mr. Zhu. The format of that reprimand will be in written format.

- 2) Pursuant to Section 54(1)(i) of the Act, the Council directs Mr. Zhu to pay the costs of and incidental to the investigation and hearing in the amount of $8,846.62. Such payment shall be made in full by 18 September, 2026.
- 3) Pursuant to Section 54(2) of the Act, if Mr. Zhu should fail to pay the costs as required by paragraph 2, Mr. Zhu's licence shall be suspended until the costs are paid in full.
- 4) The Council reserves to itself the right to reconsider and amend any of the terms of this penalty decision, upon application by Mr. Zhu. Without limiting the authority of the Council, the Council may extend the time for Mr. Zhu to pay the costs required by paragraph 2.

Reasons for Decision

The Council focused deliberations the following aspects of the case:

1. The format of the reprimand, whether it be in written or in person format.
2. Whether an additional suspension would be appropriate given that Mr. Zhu has already served an effective 2 year suspension from his educational activities.
3. The amount of costs that would be appropriate to impose, given Mr. Zhu's current financial situation.
4. The time that Mr. Zhu will be given to pay in full costs of the investigation, given his current financial situation.
5. The fact that the undertaking provided by the Professionalism Panel, fulfilled what the Council felt was critical to protect the public.

With regards to the format of the reprimand, Council decided that a written reprimand was appropriate.

In the matter of suspension, Council agreed with the Registrar's Office's submission, that Mr. Zhu has not been able to participate in any educational opportunities for 2 years. As the provided case law reveals, a 3 to 5 month penalty would be appropriate. Council feels that an additional suspension would be overly punitive given the time already served.

With regards to the costs in the amount $8846.62, Council is of the opinion that these costs reflect a reasonable accounting of the actual costs borne by the CPSS, in this matter. It is considered that while this costs are high for a medical student to afford, it is important that the financial burden of the investigation not be placed upon the membership of the College, including its medical students and physicians.

Council recognizes that given the information provided by Mr. Zhu, he does not currently have the financial resources to complete payment of the fine, nor is he expected to obtain those resources, until at least he has completed his medical education. Given this information, Council will allow Mr. Zhu up to 5 years to complete his payment.

Finally, Council wishes to stress the importance of the undertaking directed by the University of Saskatchewan College of Medicine Professionalism Panel. Council recognizes that Mr. Zhu has completed the Medical Ethics and Professionalism Course on May 1, 2021 from the California, Irvine School of Medicine. We feel that it is an acceptable format for Mr. Zhu's education. Council also reviewed the elements of the undertaking related to his usage of personal health information. We note that he has undertaken to not make any photocopies or digital copies of any component of the medical record; to not print any component of the medical record from digital or online sources; he will not possess any medical record, that is not his own or for which he is the trustee; that he will complete a daily log regarding patient lists; that he must disclose to his attending staff these restrictions; that all patient files deemed essential to his clinical duties be provided by the resident or staff physician, and that he return them at the end of the day; the logs of compliance with these measures will be reviewed by the Associate Dean of Undergraduate Medical Education. Council feels that this is an appropriate undertaking, in order to fulfill its mandate to protect the public.
